This exercise is for people in human resoources and for those who have lost a job. Click here for an on-line exercise to leave a working vocabulary Read the following conversation    Geoff, a human resources manager, and Dave, a member of the human resources team, about staff losing their jobs. From the context, try to guess what the bold words/phrases mean. Then take the quiz at the end to check if you are right    n. Geoff: 'How    was your ma  zana?' Dave: 'Very busy. "It never stops! I have some things to update you. "Are you available now?" Geoff: 'Go ahead.' Dave: "Firstly, Susan from Marketing wants to terminate the contract of one of your team?" Geoff: 'Why   raz      n?' Dave: 'For his level of attendance, he has missed many of the work's days and his overall quality of work. He wondered if this gave us the motives, the justification    to be able to fire him. Geoff: 'You must make sure his manager gave him a verbal warning first. But most importantly, he must have received an official or written warning. Without any of these, we can't do anything. Dave: 'She said she's had both.' 'Ok, get signed copies of both. In addition, we need a copy of your latest performance   . Hopefully, his he wrote something about the problems there. Remember, if we don't follow legal procedures, you may be able to complain of unfair dismissal, and argue that you were fired because of ethnicity or religi   more than because of your work. And if he goes to an employment tribunal, we have to make sure we did everything right.    Can you also calculate what your severance    be? Remember, we have to pay you for any outstanding vacation days you still have. Dave: 'I'll take care of it.' Geoff: 'Ah, there's something I need to talk to you about. I've just been confirmed that because of the crisis, in June we're going to make 40 dismissed officials. The CEO wants to cut costs. In addition, from now on there will be no new recruitment   . Dave: 'Whoa, we're gonna fire 40 people. "My God! "What did the union say about it?' Geoff: 'At the moment, the union knows nothing about it. But I'm sure they've suspected something like that. We will inform you in the    days and begin negotiations to finalize the details by the end of the month. But before that, we will have to make a proposal on what the redundancy package will be. The longer they've worked here, the more money they'll get. So, I'm afraid we're going to be a lot busier here on human resources.' The following    is a definition    description    each of the bold words/phrases in the previous text. Now fill in the blanks with one of these bold words/phrases.
